Quick view	Bias: Neutral-cautious, range below 50-day MA	Next 24h range: $79,500 - $82,000	Key floor: $79,250 (Sat low), then $78-79k max pain	Big event: FOMC Thu 29 Oct 02:00 MYT; $12B expiry Fri 30 Oct 16:00

1. Options - next 24 hours and upcoming expiries

- Today's daily expiry settles at 16:00 MYT (08:00 UTC), minutes after this report; the next daily is Mon 26 Oct 16:00 MYT. Dailies are small and should not move price much.
- No new strike-level read for the Mon daily this run (Deribit feed not reachable). Daily contracts are typically a fraction of a weekly, so treat the next 24h expiry as low impact.
- The expiry that matters this week is Fri 30 Oct 16:00 MYT: the October monthly (also the weekly), ~150k BTC / ~$12B notional, about 35% of Deribit BTC options OI.

Expiry	Largest position seen	Size	Meaning
Mon 26 Oct daily	Not available this run	Small (daily)	Low impact; price driven by spot/macro, not dealer hedging
Fri 30 Oct (weekly = monthly)	$95,000 Call	25,570 BTC (~$2.07B)	Far out of the money (+18%); likely expires worthless, little hedging pull now
Fri 30 Oct (weekly = monthly)	$70,000 Put	4,142 BTC (~$335M)	Deep downside insurance; puts are thin, so less put-wall support below $78k

Upcoming expiries

Expiry (Malaysia time)	Notional	Put/Call	Max pain	Largest strikes

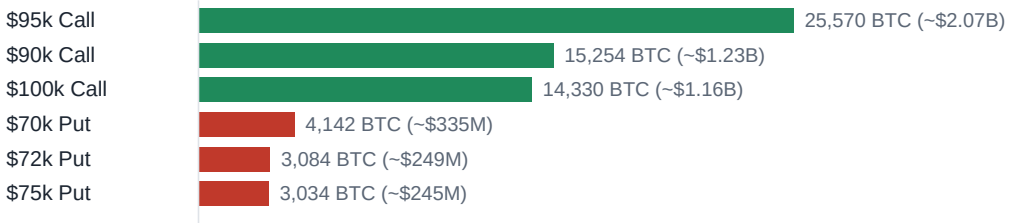
Fri 30 Oct monthly - largest open interest by strike (Deribit, BTC)



How options affect the market now

- Max pain pull: max pain for 30 Oct sits at $78-79k, about 2-3.5% below spot. Into Friday, option sellers benefit if BTC drifts lower, a mild gravitational pull, strongest in the last 24-48h before expiry.
- Call walls are far away: the big call stacks ($90k, $95k, $100k) are 11-24% above spot. They do not cap price this week; they mainly show that bullish bets placed earlier in October are now losing value.
- Put/call 0.52-0.56: the book is call-heavy, but that is stale optimism. Thin put OI means no big dealer put-hedge floor until the low $70ks; if $78k breaks, hedging could add to selling rather than slow it.
- Next-24h daily is too small to matter; spot flows, ETF data and Fed positioning will drive the next day.
- Volatility: last published IV ~32% implies ~1.7% per day (~$1,350). Expect IV to stay bid into FOMC (Thu 02:00 MYT) and ease after the Friday expiry.

Data note: the Deribit API and DVOL feed were not reachable this run, so strike sizes and IV are the latest published figures (CryptoTicker 17 and 24 Oct, via Deribit). Sizes in BTC; USD at ~$80,800. Treat as 'largest seen'.

2. Price action and key levels

- BTC is flat over 24h near $80,800 after a Saturday flush to $79,263 briefly broke $80,000 (24h range ~$79,263-$81,445).
- Price closed below the 50-day MA (~$81,800) on Friday for the first time in 66 days; it is now resistance.
- About $820M of crypto liquidations hit in 24h to Saturday evening, 84% longs; BTC alone ~$240M (93% longs). Leverage was flushed, which lowers the risk of another cascade right away.
- Week: -1.3% (Coinbase 7d), weekly range ~$80,500-$84,900. Momentum has faded since the 21 Oct high near $84,300-84,900.

Type	Level	Why it matters
Resistance	$84,300-84,900	21 Oct high / top of weekly range
Resistance	$82,400-82,550	Recent swing highs; reclaim improves the short-term trend
Pivot	$81,400-81,800	24h high + 50-day MA; above here bias turns neutral-bullish
Support	$80,000-80,400	Round number with visible bids; daily close below opens lower
Support	$79,250	Saturday's liquidation low
Support	$78,000-79,000	30 Oct max pain zone
Deep risk	$76,500 / $72,400	Lower implied-range edge / 200-day MA

3. Derivatives, flows and sentiment

Metric	Latest	Read
Futures open interest	~$54.0B (CoinGlass)	Still large; leverage partly reset but not cleaned out
Funding rates	Not available this run	After a long-heavy flush, funding is likely near neutral; check before acting
Liquidations (24h to Sat eve)	$820.8M all crypto; BTC $239.7M	93% of BTC liquidations were longs
Spot BTC ETF flows	21 Oct +$528M; 22 Oct -$635M; 23 Oct -$138M	Two outflow days in a row; biggest single-day outflow since June
Fear and Greed	Neutral (25 Oct)	Down from 62 'greed' on 14 Oct
Options IV	~32% (last published)	~1.7% / ~$1,350 expected daily move

4. News and macro

- Fed week: FOMC 27-28 Oct; rate at 3.75-4.00% after a September hike. CME pricing ~90% hold, ~9% another 25bp hike. Watch Chair Warsh's tone on December.
- Inflation worries: UMich 1-yr inflation expectations rose to 4.7% (long-run 3.5%), highest since May; September CPI was 3.7% y/y.
- Risk-off drivers: Nasdaq fell 2.6% on 22 Oct on AI capex doubts; Brent hit its highest since May after Houthi attacks on Saudi Arabia.
- ETF outflows: $635M out on 22 Oct (IBIT -$254M, FBTC -$218M), then -$138M on 23 Oct.
- Regulation: CFTC unveiled a federal framework for leveraged crypto trading; Hong Kong set an end-2026 deadline for new crypto licensing rules.
- Corporate buying: Strive added 1,223 BTC; Arthur Hayes said he closed directional trades on macro and geopolitical risk.

5. Summary and prediction

BTC has stabilised around $80,800 after a long-liquidation flush to $79,263, but it sits below the 50-day MA with two days of ETF outflows and a hawkish-leaning Fed ahead. Options add a mild downward pull: Friday's $12B monthly has max pain at $78-79k and thin put support, while the big call walls are far above and irrelevant this week. The next 24h expiry is too small to matter; Sunday-to-Monday Asia liquidity is thin, so expect choppy ranging with a slight downside tilt until the Fed. 24h call: range $79,500-$82,000, slight bearish tilt; a clean loss of $79,250 opens $78k.

Scenario	Chance	Range	Trigger
Base: range	55%	$79,500 - $82,000	Quiet weekend-to-Monday trade, traders wait for FOMC
Bullish	20%	$81,800 - $83,500	Hourly close above $81,800 (50-day MA) with spot buying / ETF inflows Monday
Bearish	25%	$77,800 - $79,500	Break below $79,250 Saturday low; risk-off in stocks/oil spikes

- Bull signal: 4h close above $81,800 and hold; next target $82,500.
- Bear signal: hourly close below $79,250; then $78,000-79,000 max pain zone.
- Next report: 11:50pm MYT (Sun 25 Oct)
