BTC 8-Hour Market Report

BTC ~ $83,170

Wed 14 Oct 2026, 07:51 Malaysia time (23:51 UTC Tue 13 Oct)

CoinGecko: +1.7% 24h, -2.5% 7d; 24h range $81,018-$84,074

Quick view	Bias: Neutral, event-driven (CPI tonight)	Next 24h range: $81,500 - $85,000	Key floor: $80,000-$81,000 (put wall + recent lows)	Big event: US CPI 8:30pm MYT today (Wed 14 Oct)

1. Options - next 24 hours and upcoming expiries

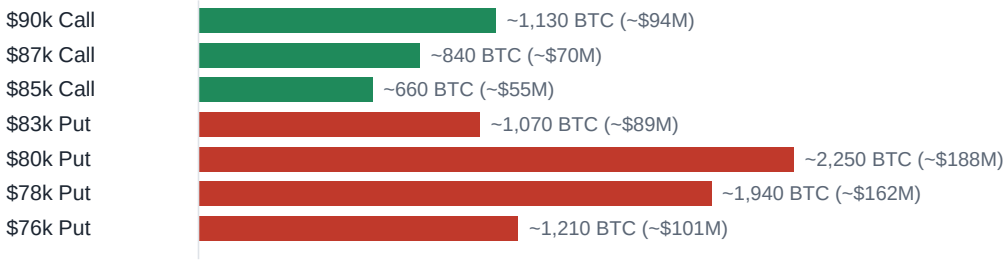
- Next expiry: Deribit daily 14OCT26 at 4:00pm MYT today (08:00 UTC) - about 4 hours before US CPI, so CPI risk rolls into Thursday's daily and Friday's weekly.
- How big: strike-level data for the daily could not be read this run; dailies are normally small (a fraction of the weekly) and unlikely to move price on their own.
- Expiry that matters this week: Friday weekly 16OCT26 (~$1.29B, put/call 1.43, max pain $83,000 - right at spot). The big one is the 30 Oct monthly (~$11.69B, max pain $78,000, giant $95k call wall).

Expiry	Largest position seen	Size	Meaning
14 Oct daily (4pm MYT)	n/a - feed not readable	n/a	Too small/unknown to matter; CPI comes after it settles
16 Oct weekly - put	$80,000 Put	~$188M notional	Main hedge floor; $76k-$80k puts total ~$451M (35% of expiry)
16 Oct weekly - call	$90,000 Call	~$94M notional	Upside lottery; nearer calls $85k (~$55M) and $87k (~$70M) cap rallies
30 Oct monthly - call	$95,000 Call	25,031 contracts (~$2.08B)	Dominant call wall; far above spot, little effect this week

Upcoming expiries

Expiry (Malaysia time)	Notional	Put/Call	Max pain	Largest strikes
Wed 14 Oct, 4:00pm (daily)	n/a	n/a	n/a	Not readable this run
Fri 16 Oct, 4:00pm (weekly)	~$1.29B (15,502 BTC)	1.43	$83,000	Put $80k ~$188M; $78k ~$162M; Call $90k ~$94M
Fri 30 Oct, 4:00pm (monthly)	~$11.69B (140,844 contracts)	0.48	$78,000	Call $95k 25,031 (~$2.08B); Put $70k 3,212 (~$267M); Put $80k 2,791

Fri 16 Oct weekly expiry - largest strikes (BTC est. from notional at ~$83,450, CryptoSlate 12 Oct)



How options affect the market now

- Pin into Friday: weekly max pain ($83,000) sits on top of spot, and $83k puts are near the money - dealer hedging tends to dampen moves and pull price back toward $83k, as long as CPI does not shock.
- Downside is where the fuel is: ~$451M of puts at $76k-$80k (P/C 1.43, 7-day 25-delta skew flipped to -2.4). If $80k breaks, dealers short those puts sell into weakness, which can speed a drop toward $78k/$76k.
- Upside caps: calls at $85k and $87k are thin but act as resistance; a clean break above $85k forces some call hedging (buying) that can extend toward $87k.

- Month-end gravity: the 30 Oct max pain is $78,000, below spot, while $95k holds the biggest call wall (~$2.08B). Bulls are positioned far out; the pain point drags lower if momentum fades.
- Volatility is cheap: 7-day ATM IV ~32%, 30-day IV lower than on 91% of days in DVOL history; the CPI window prices only ~1.98% (~$1,650). Cheap vol before a key print raises the risk of a bigger-than-priced move either way.
- After Friday: once the weekly put cluster rolls off, the pin weakens and price is freer to trend into the 30 Oct expiry and the 28-29 Oct FOMC.

Data note: the live Deribit feeds (index price, DVOL, book summary) could not be read this run, so options figures are "largest seen" from published snapshots: weekly data from CryptoSlate/Laevitas (12 Oct), monthly from CryptoTicker (10 Oct). Positions may have shifted since; BTC counts in the chart are estimated from notional.

2. Price action and key levels

- BTC flushed to ~$80,950 on Monday/Tuesday as $728M-$771M of leveraged positions (mostly longs, ~85-89%) were liquidated, then made a V-shaped recovery to ~$83,000-$84,000 on spot buying.
- The rebound stalled twice at $84,000-$84,250 (24h high $84,074). Price now sits right on the $83,000 pivot that is also weekly max pain.
- Trend is still soft: -2.5% on the week and ~34% below the $126,080 record; volumes were below average before the flush.
- Market is waiting for US CPI tonight; the 1-day options-implied move is ~2%, i.e. roughly $81,500-$84,800.

Type	Level	Why it matters
Resistance 2	$86,000-$87,250	Next upside zone if $85k reclaims; $87k calls and upper end of weekly 1-sd range (~$87,150)
Resistance 1	$84,000-$85,000	Two rejections at $84k-$84.25k; $85k call strike
Pivot	$83,000	Weekly max pain and near-the-money $83k puts; decision level
Support 1	$81,500-$82,000	Rebound base and lower edge of CPI implied move
Support 2	$80,000-$80,950	Recent lows ($80,345 / $80,948) and the largest weekly put strike ($80k)
Deep risk	$76,000-$78,000	Put clusters ($78k ~$162M, $76k ~$101M) and 30 Oct max pain $78k

3. Derivatives, flows and sentiment

Metric	Latest	Read
Perp open interest	~$29.3B (-1.9% w/w); aggregate BTC OI $54.5B -> $52.7B	Leverage reduced after the flush - healthier base
Funding rate	~0.004%-0.008% per 8h (5.6% annualized)	Below 0.01% neutral; longs not crowded
Liquidations (24h)	~$728M crypto-wide, ~83-89% longs	Long flush done; shorts now more exposed
Spot BTC ETF flows	13 Oct: +$6.7M; 12 Oct: -$65.4M; wk to 9 Oct: -$679M	Outflows paused but no real demand returning yet
Implied vol	7d ATM 32.0%, 30d 34.7%; CPI window 37.9%	Cheap vol; implied daily move ~2% (~$1,650)
Options skew	7d 25-delta: -2.40 (from +1.98)	Short-dated puts now bid - mild caution
Fear & Greed	40 (Fear) per Au79; 57 per KuCoin (from 69)	Sources differ; both show sentiment cooling

4. News and macro

- CPI tonight: US September CPI due 8:30pm MYT. Consensus headline 3.6%-3.7% y/y (from 3.4%), +0.6% m/m; core +0.2% m/m, 2.5% y/y. The Fed (Chair Warsh) hiked 25bp in September to 3.75%-4.00%; markets price under 20% for an October hike but ~85% for December.
- Hawkish Fed talk: Cleveland Fed's Hammack says policy must stay restrictive and is open to an Oct move; NY Fed's Williams sees one more hike this year. 10-year yield ~5.2%, dollar near an 18-month high - a headwind for BTC.
- Risk-off in equities: KOSPI fell 5.46% on 13 Oct; US chip stocks (SOX -1.5%) lost for a fifth day; JPMorgan missed estimates while Goldman beat. US indexes were flat to slightly lower.
- Geopolitics / oil: an attack on a tanker in the Strait of Hormuz and uncertainty over a Russia-Ukraine energy ceasefire lifted oil to a near one-month high, adding to inflation worries.
- Regulation: Bank of Russia added Sberbank to its crypto exchange register (BTC/ETH/USDT trading planned from 1 Dec); a UK court ruled Chinese law governs claims over the 61,000 BTC Qian case; FASB is weighing stablecoins as cash equivalents.

Event calendar (Malaysia time)

Fri 30 Oct, 4:00pm	Deribit monthly expiry (~$11.69B, max pain $78k, $95k call wall)

5. Summary and prediction

BTC has repaired Monday's liquidation flush and is parked on $83,000, the weekly max pain, with leverage and funding reset to neutral. Options positioning favours a pin between ~$81.5k and ~$85k into Friday, but the real driver tonight is CPI: implied vol is unusually cheap, the Fed is in a hiking cycle with yields near 5.2%, and the put-heavy weekly book (P/C 1.43, big $76k-$80k puts) means a hot print could fall faster than a soft print can rally through the $84k-$85k cap. ETF demand remains absent, so upside needs a clear macro catalyst. 24h call: range $81,500-$85,000, neutral with a slight downside skew; a CPI surprise decides the break.

Scenario	Chance	Range	Trigger
Base: CPI pin	55%	$81,500 - $85,000	CPI near consensus (core +0.2% m/m); price chops around $83k max pain into Friday
Bullish breakout	20%	$84,500 - $87,250	Soft CPI (core 0.1% or headline below 3.6%), yields drop; 1h close above $84,250 then $85k
Bearish break	25%	$78,000 - $81,500	Hot CPI (core 0.3%+), yields/dollar up; loss of $82k, then $80k triggers put hedging

- Bull signal: hourly close above $84,250 with funding staying under 0.01% and ETF inflows returning - opens $85k-$87k.
- Bear signal: hourly close below $81,500 after CPI; a break of $80,000 likely accelerates toward $78k.
