BTC 8-Hour Market Report

Wed 28 Oct 2026, 07:50 Malaysia time (23:50 UTC, 27 Oct)

BTC ~ $80,630

CoinGecko/CoinGlass: +1.0% 24h, -2.2% 7d

Quick view	Bias: Neutral, slight downside pull toward $78k max pain	Next 24h: $79,000 - $81,800 (FOMC at 02:00 MYT)	Key floor: $79,000-79,400, then $78,000	Big event: Fed decision Thu 02:00 MYT; $10.9B expiry Fri 16:00

1. Options - next 24 hours and upcoming expiries

- Next expiry: Deribit daily, Wed 28 Oct 16:00 MYT (08:00 UTC). Daily expiries are usually small (a few thousand BTC) and the strike data was not readable this run.
- How big: the daily is minor. The one that matters is Fri 30 Oct 16:00 MYT - weekly + October monthly together, ~135,545 BTC (~$10.9B), roughly a third of all Deribit BTC options OI.
- This week: the Fed decision (Thu 02:00 MYT) lands ~38 hours before the monthly expiry, so dealer hedging around $78k-$80k and the Fed reaction will overlap.

Expiry	Largest position seen	Size	Meaning
28 Oct daily (16:00)	n/a - not readable	n/a	Small; little hedging impact expected
30 Oct monthly - call	$95,000 Call	19,951 BTC (~$1.61B)	Far out of the money; likely expires worthless unless a +18% rally
30 Oct monthly - call	$90,000 Call	10,710 BTC (~$0.86B)	Upside magnet only if $85k breaks; not in play for 24h
30 Oct monthly - put	$70,000 Put	4,352 BTC (~$0.35B)	Tail hedge; $75k put (2,993 BTC) is the nearer floor

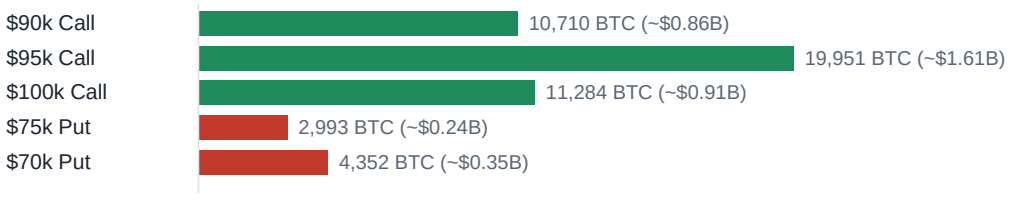
Fri 30 Oct expiry - largest open interest by strike (Deribit, per CryptoTicker 27 Oct)



How options affect the market now

- Max pain pull: $78,000 sits ~3% under spot. Into Friday's settlement, option sellers benefit if price drifts lower, which adds a mild downward gravity on rallies.
- Calls are far away: the big call stack ($90k-$100k) is 12-24% above spot, so there is no near-term call wall to squeeze through; those contracts mostly decay to zero and do not cap price at $81k-$83k.
- Put/call 0.55 looks bullish but is stale bullishness: most calls were bought when BTC was $86k+. Fresh flow is the opposite - 25-delta skew is positive (puts dearer) across all maturities and the $72k Dec put was the most traded contract.

- Downside acceleration zone: put OI is thin until $75k, so a break of $78k-79k has little dealer support above $75k-75.5k.
- After expiry: roughly a third of Deribit OI rolls off Friday 16:00 MYT; pinning pressure fades and moves can widen into the 3 Nov US midterms.
- Next 24h: the daily expiry is too small to matter; the Fed outcome at 02:00 MYT is the driver.

Data note: the live Deribit API (index, DVOL, book summary) could not be read this run. Expiry figures are from CryptoTicker (27 Oct 06:26 UTC) and FinanceFeeds/CryptoBriefing; USD sizes are OI x ~$80,630. Treat as largest positions seen, not a full board.

2. Price action and key levels

- BTC is ~$80,630, back above $80,000 after a 24h range of ~$79,416 - $80,727; up ~1.0% on the day but down ~2.2% on the week and ~5.7% on the month.
- Six straight lower daily closes into Monday (-5.4%) ended with a bounce off ~$79,300; the $80k line has been lost and reclaimed repeatedly - it is the pivot.
- Price sits at the bottom of the month-long $80k-$87k range, below the 30-day SMA (~$83,170); momentum (RSI ~44, MACD negative) still leans soft.
- Estimated average spot-ETF cost basis ~$81,700 - holders are slightly underwater, which can create selling into rallies toward that level.

Type	Level	Why it matters
Resistance 2	$83,150 - $85,000	50% Fib / 30-day SMA, then top of recent range
Resistance 1	$81,700 - $82,500	ETF cost basis; Santiment's bottom-confirmation reclaim level
Pivot	$80,000	Psychological line, lost and regained all week
Support 1	$79,000 - $79,400	This week's lows; a sustained break delays any bottom
Support 2	$78,000	Fri expiry max pain; Kalshi-priced October low
Deep risk	$75,500 / $73,000	Hilbert Group's 'level that matters' and 100-day SMA; then 200-day SMA, $70k-75k puts

3. Derivatives, flows and sentiment

Metric	Latest	Read
Futures open interest	$55.2B (CoinGlass, now)	Up from $53.2B on 26 Oct - positions being added into the Fed; raises squeeze risk both ways
Funding rates	Not readable this run	No reports of extreme funding; treat as neutral
Liquidations	$624M BTC futures, week of 19-25 Oct (69.5% longs)	Longs flushed last week; 24h figure not readable this run
Spot BTC ETF flows	+$110.3M on 26 Oct (all IBIT)	Follows -$137.9M on 23 Oct and a ~$772M two-day exit (Farside); demand still fragile
Implied volatility	~32% (FinanceFeeds, 26 Oct)	Implies ~1.7%/day, about +/- $1,350; low for a Fed week
Options skew	25d put skew positive, all tenors	Traders paying up for downside protection
Fear & Greed	43 (CMC, 26 Oct)	Neutral-cautious; down from 73 a month ago

4. News and macro

- Fed: FOMC decision Thu 02:00 MYT, Chair Warsh press conference 02:30 MYT. CME FedWatch ~90% hold at 3.75%-4.00% (after September's 25bp hike), ~10% hike. Guidance on December matters more than the decision.
- Corporate treasuries: Strategy made no purchase in the week to 25 Oct (holdings 848,517 BTC); Strive bought 6,182 BTC (~$511M); a MARA-linked wallet moved ~1,000 BTC to Galaxy (not confirmed as a sale).

- Flows and sentiment: Galaxy says it is time to accumulate; a $68M options bet targets $90k after the 3 Nov US midterms. ETF demand returned modestly on 26 Oct.
- Macro: oil eased ~2% (WTI ~$101, Brent ~$110); US 10-year yield near 4.99%; US Q3 GDP and September PCE due Thu 20:30 MYT.
- Security: a reported bitcoin wallet bug let rogue servers steal funds during fee bumps - wallet-level issue, not a protocol flaw.

5. Summary and prediction

BTC has bounced back above $80,000 but remains at the bottom of its one-month $80k-$87k range with weak momentum, cautious sentiment (Fear & Greed 43), positive put skew and rising futures open interest ahead of Thursday's 02:00 MYT Fed decision. Options add a mild downward pull: Friday's ~$10.9B monthly expiry has max pain at $78,000 and its large call positions sit far above at $90k-$100k, so they offer no near-term support. A hold is fully priced; the move will come from Warsh's tone on December. With implied vol only ~32%, a surprise could produce a bigger-than-priced move. 24h call: range $79,000 - $81,800, slight downside bias; a daily close below $79,000 opens $78,000.

Scenario	Chance	Range	Trigger
Base - chop around Fed	55%	$79,000 - $81,800	Hold as expected, balanced guidance; price pinned near $80k toward Friday's expiry
Bullish	22%	$81,800 - $83,500	Dovish-leaning Warsh (no December hike signal); hourly close above $81,800 and ETF inflows
Bearish	23%	$77,500 - $79,000	Hawkish tone or hike-door left open; loss of $79,000 triggers long liquidations toward $78k max pain

- Bull signal: an hourly close above $81,800 that holds after the 02:30 MYT press conference opens $83,150.
- Bear signal: a 4-hour close below $79,000 targets $78,000; below $77,500 the next real floor is $75,500.
- Next report: Wed 28 Oct 15:50 MYT
