CoinGlass 26 Oct | 24h -0.8% | 1w ~-2.4%

Quick view	Bias: Neutral-bearish, range-bound into the Fed	Next 24h: $78,800 - $81,300	Key floor: $79,200-79,400 (Oct 24 / Oct 26 lows), then $78k max pain	Big event: FOMC Thu 29 Oct 2:00am MYT, then ~$12B expiry Fri 30 Oct 4pm

1. Options - next 24 hours and upcoming expiries

- Next expiries: today's daily (26 Oct) settles at 4:00pm MYT - minutes after this report; the next one is the Tuesday 27 Oct daily at 4:00pm MYT. Daily contracts are small and rarely move spot on their own.
- How big: strike-level data for the 26/27 Oct dailies could not be read this run. Daily Deribit expiries are usually a few thousand BTC at most, so they are a minor force versus the weekly/monthly book.
- The expiry that matters: Friday 30 Oct, 4:00pm MYT - the October monthly (and weekly). About 149,700 BTC, roughly $12.0B at $80k, about 35% of all Deribit BTC options OI. It lands ~38 hours after the FOMC decision.

Expiry	Largest position seen	Size	Meaning

30 Oct (Call)	$95,000 call	25,570 BTC (~$2.05B)	Far out of the money (+19%); a lottery ticket, not a magnet
30 Oct (Call)	$90,000 call	15,254 BTC (~$1.22B)	Upside wall if a squeeze happens; also where dealer gamma sits (Greeks.live)
30 Oct (Put)	$70,000 put	4,142 BTC (~$0.33B)	Crash protection; puts at $72k/$75k (~3,000 BTC each) are the nearer layer

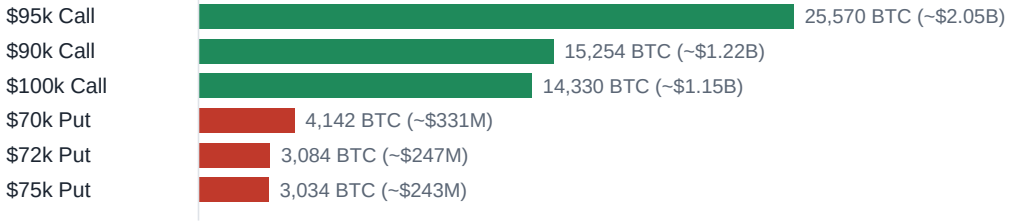
30 Oct 2026 expiry - largest open interest by strike (BTC; USD at $80k)



How options affect the market now

- Max pain pull: max pain for 30 Oct is $78k-79k, about 1-2.5% below spot. Into Friday, option sellers benefit if BTC drifts lower, which adds a mild downward lean on top of the weak tape.
- Call-heavy book (P/C ~0.52-0.56): most of the open interest is calls at $90k-100k that are far out of the money. They will likely expire worthless, so they do not support price; they mostly show that bullish bets placed earlier in October have gone stale.

- Dealer hedging: gamma is concentrated around $90k, too far away to matter this week. Closer in, put interest has been building at $80k (Greeks.live); if $80k fails, dealers short those puts may sell to hedge, which can speed up a move toward $78k-75k.
- Volatility is cheap: DVOL was ~37 on 19 Oct (near 2-year lows) and 30 Oct IV ~32-34%. That implies a typical daily move of roughly 1.9% (~$1,550). Cheap vol into a Fed meeting means a surprise could produce a bigger move than options price.
- After expiry: ~35% of Deribit OI rolls off on Friday. That releases pinning and usually lets volatility pick up the following week, just as US midterms (3 Nov) approach.
- Next-24h expiry: too small to matter; Tuesday's price is driven by macro headlines and spot flows, not by the daily expiry.

Data note: the Deribit API (index, DVOL, book summary) could not be reached this run, so strike-level OI comes from published articles (CryptoTicker 17 and 24 Oct, CoinMarketCap/QCP/Greeks.live ~19 Oct). Figures are 'largest seen' and may have shifted; USD sizes use $80,000.

2. Price action and key levels

- BTC slipped below $80,000 over the weekend, touching about $79,390 on 26 Oct, just above the 24 Oct low near $79,200. It is trading around $79,600-80,100 this afternoon.
- Bounces were rejected at $80,900-81,000. On 24 Oct price closed below the 50-day average (~$81,300) for the first time in 66 days.
- Last week's high was ~$84,800 on 21 Oct after big ETF inflows; it has since given back about 6%.
- The Coinbase premium has been negative for 33 days in a row, showing weak US spot demand.

Type	Level	Why it matters
Resistance 2	$82,400-84,800	Mid-Oct range highs; 21 Oct ETF-driven peak
Resistance 1	$80,900-81,300	Weekend rejection zone plus the 50-day average
Pivot	$80,000	Round number, visible bids, and building put OI; holding above it keeps the range intact
Support	$79,200-79,400	Double low on 24 and 26 Oct
Support 2	$78,000-79,000	Max pain for the 30 Oct expiry; Kalshi traders flag $78k
Deep risk	$75,000 / $72,000	Put clusters; $75k cited by Liquid Capital as the next key support

3. Derivatives, flows and sentiment

Metric	Latest	Read
Futures open interest	~$53.7B (CoinGlass, 26 Oct)	Down slightly from ~$54.1B on 25 Oct; mild deleveraging, not a flush
Funding rate	~0.007% per 8h (25 Oct)	Low and positive; longs are not crowded
Liquidations	$112M in 24h to 25 Oct (90% longs); $98M crypto-wide in 12h on 26 Oct (77% longs)	Longs keep getting hit on dips below $80k
Spot BTC ETF flows	22 Oct -$635.6M; 23 Oct -$137.9M; week of 19-23 Oct +$301.2M	Inflows earlier in the week reversed; latest two days are outflows
Implied volatility	DVOL ~37 (19 Oct); 30 Oct IV ~32-34%	Near 2-year lows; implied daily move ~1.9%
Fear and Greed	50 (neutral), 26 Oct	Down from 69 on 12 Oct and 55 on 17 Oct

4. News and macro

- Fed this week: FOMC decision Wed 28 Oct, 2:00pm ET (Thu 29 Oct 2:00am MYT), Chair Kevin Warsh presser at 2:30am MYT. The Fed hiked to 3.75-4.00% in September; markets price roughly 82-93% hold now and ~73-77% odds of a December hike. No new projections at this meeting.
- Oil and Iran: Brent hit its highest since April on Friday (~$116.7) on fears of US/Israeli strikes on Iran; it is ~$114.5 today. High oil feeds inflation worries and the hawkish Fed outlook.
- Stocks: S&P 500 and Nasdaq posted a second straight weekly loss amid AI-funding worries (CoreWeave, Meta fell sharply). US futures are slightly higher this morning (+0.25%). Big-tech earnings (Google, Microsoft, Amazon) plus Strategy and Coinbase report this week.
- Positioning: Arthur Hayes said he closed all directional positions on 24 Oct, expecting more correction; Bitwise still targets $100k by year-end if ETF inflows return.
- Other: SEC set FY2027 exam priorities including tokenization and crypto cybersecurity; HSBC launched an HKD stablecoin. No major exchange hack reported in the last 24h.

5. Summary and prediction

BTC is sitting on the $80,000 pivot after failing at $81,000 over the weekend. The tone is cautious: ETF flows turned negative late last week, the Coinbase premium is negative, oil is near $115 on Iran fears, and the Fed is expected to hold but sound hawkish. The options picture adds a mild downward lean: max pain for Friday's ~$12B expiry is $78-79k, the big call positions at $90k+ are out of reach, and put interest is building at $80k. Leverage is not crowded and implied volatility is very low, so a sharp move is possible after the FOMC (Thu 2am MYT), but the next 24 hours, with only small daily expiries and second-tier US data, look more like range trading. 24h call: range $78,800-81,300 with a slight downside tilt; a clean break of $79,200 opens $78k.

Scenario	Chance	Range	Trigger
Base: pre-Fed chop	50%	$79,200 - $81,000	No big headline; traders wait for the FOMC; price pinned near $80k
Bearish: breakdown	30%	$77,500 - $79,500	Hourly close below $79,200, renewed ETF outflows, oil spike or Iran escalation; drift to max pain $78k
Bullish: squeeze	20%	$80,500 - $82,500	Reclaim and hold $81,300 (50-day avg), ETF inflows return, oil eases; shorts cover

- Breakdown signal: 1-hour close below $79,200 with rising volume and long liquidations - targets $78,000-78,500.
- Breakout signal: 4-hour close above $81,300 with positive Coinbase premium - opens $82,400.
- Next report: 11:50pm MYT (Mon 26 Oct).
