BTC ~ $80,400

Crypto News Flash 23:49 MYT; -1.9% 24h, -0.6% week

| | | | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| Quick view | Bias: Mildly bearish / range | Next 24h: $79,300 - $81,800 | Key floor: $79,700 - $80,000 | Big event: FOMC Thu 29 Oct 02:00; $11-12B expiry Fri 30 Oct 16:00 |

1. Options - next 24 hours and upcoming expiries

- Next expiry: Sunday 25 Oct, 4:00pm MYT (08:00 UTC) daily contract. No public strike data found this run; Sunday dailies are normally small and should not move price much.
- The expiry that matters this week is Friday 30 Oct, 4:00pm MYT - it is both the weekly and the October monthly, about $11.1-12.2B notional, roughly 35% of all Deribit BTC options.
- It lands one and a half days after the Fed decision (Thu 29 Oct 02:00 MYT), so Fed-driven moves will run straight into heavy dealer hedging.

| Expiry | Largest position seen | Size | Meaning |
|---|---|---|---|
| 25 Oct (daily) | Not available | - | Small Sunday daily; no published OI found. Little pin effect expected. |
| 30 Oct (weekly + monthly) | $95,000 Call | 25,570 BTC (~$2.06B) | Far above spot (+18%); likely to expire worthless unless a big rally. |
| 30 Oct (weekly + monthly) | $70,000 Put | 4,142 BTC (~$333M) | Main downside hedge; well below spot, puts are thin overall. |

Upcoming expiries

| Expiry (Malaysia time) | Notional | Put/Call | Max pain | Largest strikes |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| Sun 25 Oct 16:00 (daily) | n/a | n/a | n/a | No data found this run |
| Fri 30 Oct 16:00 (weekly + Oct monthly) | $11.1-12.2B | 0.52-0.56 | $78,000-79,000 | Calls $95k 25,570 / $90k 15,254 / $100k 14,330 BTC; puts $70k 4,142 / $72k 3,084 / $75k 3,034 BTC |
| Fri 27 Nov 16:00 (Nov monthly) | ~26,779 BTC (~$2.2B) | n/a | n/a | Not published |

Deribit 30 Oct 2026 expiry - largest open interest by strike (BTC, CryptoTicker 17 Oct)

How options affect the market now

- Max pain pull: max pain sits at $78,000-79,000, about 2-3% below spot. Into Friday, option sellers benefit if price drifts lower, which adds a mild downward gravity this week.
- Call-heavy book (P/C ~0.55): the big calls at $90k-100k are far out of the money. As they lose value, dealers who are short those calls sell back hedges, a slow headwind on rallies.
- Thin put protection: puts are small and sit at $70-75k. If $79,700 breaks, there is little dealer support until the low $70ks, so a drop could accelerate rather than stall.
- Upside: a squeeze would need a clean move back above $82,000-84,000 before call hedging starts to help; $90k is out of reach this week on current vol.
- Volatility: DVOL was ~38 (Oct 20), close to 2026 lows, implying ~2.0% (~$1,600) daily moves. Low implied vol before FOMC plus a big expiry raises the chance of a sharper move later in the week.

- Next 24h: the Sunday daily is too small to matter; weekend liquidity and leverage are the bigger drivers.

Data note: the Deribit API could not be read this run, so strike sizes are the largest seen in published reports (CryptoTicker 17 and 24 Oct, TokenPost 24 Oct). USD sizes use spot ~$80,400. DVOL is the latest published value (20 Oct), not live.

2. Price action and key levels

- BTC fell through $80,000 on Saturday afternoon (touched ~$79,800 on Binance) before bouncing to ~$80,400; down about 1.9% on the day.
- Price closed below the 50-day average (~$81,800) on 23 Oct for the first time in 66 days, and is also under the 20-day (~$82,560).
- Daily RSI ~45 and 4-hour RSI ~38: momentum is weak but not oversold. The 100-day (~$75,300) and 200-day (~$72,900) averages are still well below.
- The 5 Oct peak was $86,490; the market has made lower highs since ($84,840 most recently).

| Type | Level | Why it matters |
|---|---|---|
| Resistance 2 | $82,500 - $82,600 | 20-day average and 21 Oct low; reclaiming it would turn the short-term trend up. |
| Resistance 1 | $81,800 - $81,950 | 50-day average plus Friday's high; the line bulls need to win back. |
| Pivot | $80,400 - $80,500 | Friday session low, now the line price is fighting around. |
| Support | $79,600 - $80,000 | Large Binance bid block at $80k, 15 Oct low $79,709, liquidation cluster ~$79,600. |
| Deep risk | $77,600 - $78,000 | Max pain for 30 Oct and on-chain true market mean; then 100-day near $75,300. |

3. Derivatives, flows and sentiment

| Metric | Latest | Read |
|---|---|---|
| Futures open interest | $53.6B (Coinglass, Sat) | Still high; leverage has not been fully cleaned out. |
| Liquidations (24h) | $645M total, $505M longs | Long flush on the break below $80k; $233M in one hour. |
| Funding (Deribit perp) | +0.0035% / 8h (20 Oct) | Near neutral; no crowded longs paying up. Live figure not available. |
| Spot BTC ETF flows | -$635.5M (22 Oct),-$137.9M (23 Oct) | Two days of outflows after a strong inflow week; next data Monday US time. |
| Implied vol (DVOL) | ~38 (20 Oct) | Near 2026 lows; options price ~2% daily moves. |
| Fear & Greed | 51 Neutral (24 Oct) | Sentiment balanced, not yet fearful. |

4. News and macro

- Fed: FOMC 27-28 Oct; ~93% priced for a hold at 3.75-4.00% after September's 0.25pt hike, but ~73% odds of another hike in December. Vote split and guidance are the risk.
- Inflation: September CPI rose to 3.7% y/y (from 3.4%) and PPI was hot; oil near $100 (Brent peaked ~$116 on Middle East supply risk) keeps rate-hike talk alive.
- Risk assets: a Nasdaq pullback on Friday and big-tech earnings next week (Microsoft, Alphabet 28 Oct) set the tone for BTC.
- Global central banks: BoC and RBNZ expected to hike on 28 Oct; ECB (29 Oct) and BoJ (30 Oct) seen on hold - a broad tightening bias.
- Crypto: Bitcoin dominance near 60% as altcoins fall faster; Senator Blumenthal is probing Tether over payments to a Bo Hines-linked firm; mining difficulty set to rise ~5.5% on 29 Oct.

Event calendar (Malaysia time)

5. Summary and prediction

BTC has lost its 50-day average and briefly broke $80,000 on a $500M long flush, with ETF outflows and hot inflation data weighing. Options add a mild downward pull: max pain for Friday's $11-12B expiry sits at $78-79k, the book is call-heavy with far out-of-the-money upside, and put protection below $79k is thin. Over the weekend liquidity is low, so expect a choppy range around $80k with downside risk if $79,700 gives way; the real catalysts come mid-week with the Fed and Friday's expiry. 24h call: range $79,300-81,800 with a mild bearish tilt; a 4h close below $79,700 opens $78,000.

| Scenario | Chance | Range | Trigger |
|---|---|---|---|
| Base: weekend chop | 55% | $79,300 - $81,800 | Thin weekend volume; $80k bids hold, $81.8k caps. |
| Bearish: break lower | 27% | $77,800 - $79,500 | 4h close below $79,700; long liquidations toward max pain $78k. |
| Bullish: reclaim | 18% | $81,800 - $83,300 | Hourly close above $81,950 and back above the 50-day; shorts squeezed. |

- Clean bearish signal: a 4-hour close below $79,700 (15 Oct low) with rising open interest.
- Clean bullish signal: daily close back above $81,950 (50-day / Friday high), then $82,600.
- Next report: Sun 25 Oct 7:50am MYT
