BTC 8-Hour Market Report

Thursday 15 Oct 2026, 15:50 Malaysia time (07:50 UTC)

BTC ~ $80,750

CoinDesk 14:51 MYT | 24h -3.2% | range $80,444-$84,025

Quick view	Bias: Bearish-neutral; sitting on the $80k put wall	Next 24h: $79,500 - $83,000 (base case)	Key floor: $80,000-$80,345 (put wall + Oct lows)	Big event: US PPI + retail sales tonight 20:30 MYT

1. Options - next 24 hours and upcoming expiries

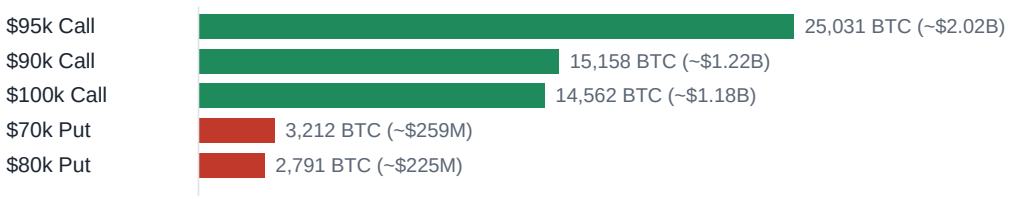
- Next expiry: Fri 16 Oct, 16:00 MYT (08:00 UTC) - the weekly, landing at the very end of the 24h window. Today's daily (15 Oct) settled at 16:00 MYT just now.
- How big: about 15,500 BTC open (~$1.25B at $80,750), put-heavy with put/call 1.43 and max pain $83,000 (Deribit snapshot 12 Oct). Moderate size - it can pin, but not drive, the market.
- The one that matters this month: the 30 Oct monthly, ~140,800 BTC (~$11.4B), max pain $78,000, dominated by far out-of-the-money $90k-$100k calls.

Expiry	Largest position seen	Size	Meaning
16 Oct (weekly)	$80,000 Put	~2,260 BTC (~$183M)	Biggest strike in the expiry; spot is only ~1% above it. Dealer hedging here can slow a drop or, if broken, speed it up.
16 Oct (weekly)	$78,000 / $76,000 Puts	~1,940 / ~1,210 BTC (~$157M / ~$98M)	Layered downside protection - the next 'stops' if $80k fails.
16 Oct (weekly)	$90,000 Call	~1,130 BTC (~$91M)	Far above spot; will almost certainly expire worthless. $87k (~$68M) and $85k (~$53M) calls also out of reach.
30 Oct (monthly)	$95,000 Call	25,031 BTC (~$2.02B)	Largest single strike on Deribit; a long-dated upside bet, no near-term pull.

Upcoming expiries

Expiry (Malaysia time)	Notional	Put/Call	Max pain	Largest strikes
Fri 16 Oct, 16:00 (weekly)	~$1.25B	1.43	$83,000	Puts $80k, $78k, $76k; Calls $90k, $87k
Fri 23 Oct, 16:00 (weekly)	n/a (not found)	n/a	n/a	No published data found this run
Fri 30 Oct, 16:00 (monthly)	~$11.4B	0.48	$78,000	Calls $95k (25.0k BTC), $90k, $100k; Puts $70k (3.2k BTC), $80k (2.8k BTC)
Fri 25 Dec, 16:00 (quarterly)	n/a	n/a	~$75,000	Max pain only (Bitcoin.com, 10 Oct)

30 Oct monthly expiry - largest strikes seen (open interest, BTC; USD at $80,750)



How options affect the market now

- $80k is the battle line. It is the largest put strike in both the 16 Oct and 30 Oct books. While spot holds above it, put sellers and hedgers tend to defend it; a clean break forces dealers who are short those puts to sell futures, which can accelerate a slide toward $78k and $76k.
- Max pain pull is upward for tomorrow ($83k), downward for month-end ($78k). Into 16:00 MYT Friday, pinning pressure is mild because the expiry is only ~$1.25B. The bigger $11.4B monthly gravity sits at $78k - below spot.

- Put/call 1.43 for the weekly shows fear, and 7-day skew flipped to put premium (-2.4) even before the CPI drop. Hedging demand is real, but crowded puts also mean short-covering bounces can be sharp.
- The $90k-$100k calls (~$4.4B) are effectively dead weight for October: no upside gamma to chase until BTC is back above $85k.
- Volatility: 7-day ATM IV was ~32% on 12 Oct (implied daily move ~1.7%, about +/- $1,350). Post-CPI IV is likely higher; after Friday's expiry, hedges roll off and moves can widen.
- Bottom line: tomorrow's expiry is mid-sized - watch $80k into 16:00 Friday; the real options event is 30 Oct.

Data note: Deribit API calls were not reachable this run, so strike-level figures come from published Deribit snapshots (CryptoSlate/DigitalToday 12 Oct; CryptoTicker 10-12 Oct; Bitcoin.com 10 Oct). Treat as 'largest seen'; USD sizes recomputed at $80,750. DVOL was not available; IV from Laevitas via CryptoSlate.

2. Price action and key levels

- BTC slid ~3.2% in 24h to ~$80,750 after hotter-than-expected US September CPI (3.7% y/y vs 3.6% est.; core 2.6% vs 2.5%) revived Fed hike bets.
- 24h range $80,444-$84,025; price failed again at $84k and is now pressing the $80,000-$80,345 floor (October lows 8 Oct and this week).
- Daily RSI ~44 and MACD below signal: momentum weak but not oversold.
- The 2-week $80k-$87k range is intact only while $80k holds; a daily close below $80,345 opens the $76.8k breakout base.

Type	Level	Why it matters
Resistance	$84,000-$84,500	Repeated failure this week; above it shorts would cover.
Resistance	$83,000	16 Oct max pain; prior support turned resistance.
Pivot	$81,000-$81,300	Intraday support lost overnight; reclaim = first sign of stabilising.
Support	$80,000-$80,345	Largest put strike (16 Oct and 30 Oct) + October lows.
Support	$78,000	Put strike and 30 Oct max pain.
Deep risk	$76,000-$76,800	Put strike and base of September breakout; long liquidation cluster near $73.8k below.

3. Derivatives, flows and sentiment

Metric	Latest	Read
BTC futures OI	~$52B (CoinGlass, 15 Oct)	Still elevated after the drop - room for more forced selling.
Funding (perps)	Positive; ~5.6% annualised (12 Oct)	Longs still paying; not yet washed out.
Liquidations 24h	BTC ~$197M; BTC+ETH ~$483M; ~$1B all crypto	Mostly longs; ETH hit harder than BTC.
Spot BTC ETFs	14 Oct: -$261M (FBTC -$153M); 13 Oct: +$176M	October month-to-date negative; no dip-buying yet.
Fear & Greed	53 (from 62)	Neutral, cooling fast.
7d ATM IV	~32% (12 Oct)	Implies ~1.7% daily move; likely higher now.

4. News and macro

- Hot CPI: Sept CPI +0.6% m/m, 3.7% y/y; core +0.3% m/m, 2.6% y/y. 10-year Treasury yield ~5.28%.
- Fed: odds of a 25bp hike at the 27-28 Oct FOMC jumped to roughly 45-50% (CME FedWatch, per Crypto Times) from ~22%. Fed funds 3.75-4.00% after September's hike.
- Risk-off in Asia: South Korea's Kospi fell ~8%; Nasdaq and S&P lower; ETH -6%, SOL/XRP -5%.

- Geopolitics: Houthis attacked a Saudi Aramco facility; Iran warns it will respond to any new US action - oil (Brent >$100) feeds inflation fears.
- Industry: a mining pool that once had 2.3% of hashrate shut down; EBA named USDC a significant e-money token under MiCA; Standard Chartered got VARA approval for BTC/ETH trading in Dubai.

5. Summary and prediction

Bitcoin is pinned at the top of a key support band after a hot CPI turned the October FOMC into a live hike decision. Options show traders paying for downside: the weekly book is put-heavy (P/C 1.43) with the largest strike exactly at $80k, while the huge month-end book sits on far-away $90k-$100k calls and a $78k max pain. Leverage is still elevated (OI ~$52B, positive funding), ETF flows are negative, and tonight's PPI is the next catalyst. Holding $80k into Friday's 16:00 expiry keeps a range-bound bounce possible toward $83k; losing it likely triggers a fast move to $78k. 24h call: choppy, slightly bearish - $79.5k-$83k, with $80k the line that decides the next leg.

Scenario	Chance	Range	Trigger
Base: hold and chop	55%	$79,500 - $83,000	PPI near forecast; $80k defended into Friday expiry; drift toward $83k max pain capped by $84k.
Bullish: relief bounce	20%	$83,000 - $85,500	Soft PPI/retail sales, ETF inflows; reclaim $81.3k then hourly close above $83k forces put unwinds and short covering.
Bearish: floor breaks	25%	$76,500 - $80,000	Hot PPI or more ETF outflows; daily close below $80,345 triggers put-hedge selling and long liquidations toward $78k/$76.8k.

- Breakdown signal: hourly close below $80,000 with rising OI and funding still positive.
- Breakout signal: reclaim of $81,300 then a close above $83,000 (max pain) with funding turning flat/negative.
- Next report: 23:50 MYT tonight (Thu 15 Oct).
