BTC 8-Hour Market Report

Monday 19 Oct 2026, 23:59 Malaysia time (15:59 UTC)

BTC ~ $82,500

FXStreet 9:37pm MYT | 24h ~+0.5% | 7d ~-1.4%

Quick view	Bias: Neutral, range-bound	Next 24h: $81,000 - $84,000	Key floor: $81,000 - $81,500, then $80,000	Big event: Weekly expiry Fri 23 Oct 4pm; FOMC Thu 29 Oct 2am

1. Options - next 24 hours and upcoming expiries

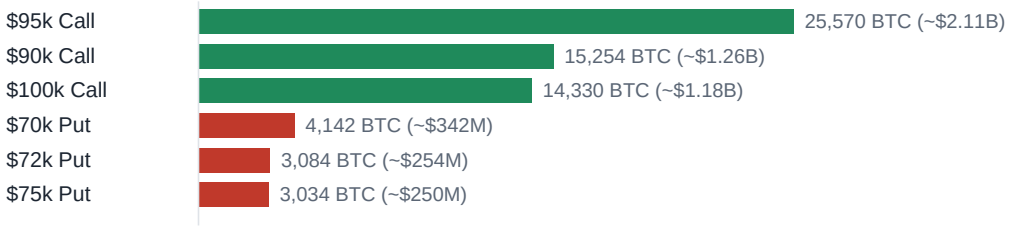
- Next expiry: Deribit daily, Tue 20 Oct, 4:00pm MYT (08:00 UTC). Strike-level data for this daily could not be read this run; daily expiries are normally a small slice of total open interest.
- Weekly (Fri 23 Oct, 4:00pm MYT): about 13,800-14,800 BTC (~$1.15B), put-heavy (P/C 1.24), max pain $82,000 - right at spot.
- The one that matters: the monthly on Fri 30 Oct, 4:00pm MYT - about $12.2B, ten times the weekly, call-heavy, max pain $79,000. It lands two days after the FOMC decision.

Expiry	Largest position seen	Size	Meaning
Tue 20 Oct (daily)	Not readable this run	n/a	Treat as too small to steer price on its own
Fri 23 Oct (weekly)	$78,000 Put	Largest put OI (size not published)	Main downside hedge; $70k and $80k puts next. Puts outnumber calls
Fri 23 Oct (weekly)	Calls: 6,149 BTC total	~$0.51B	Thin call side; no big call wall this week
Fri 30 Oct (monthly)	$95,000 Call	25,570 BTC (~$2.11B)	Biggest strike on Deribit; far above spot, an upside lottery ticket

Upcoming expiries

Expiry (Malaysia time)	Notional	Put/Call	Max pain	Largest strikes
Tue 20 Oct, 4:00pm (daily)	n/a	n/a	n/a	Data not available this run
Fri 23 Oct, 4:00pm (weekly)	~$1.15B	1.24	$82,000	Puts $78k, $70k, $80k (sizes not published)
Fri 30 Oct, 4:00pm (monthly)	~$12.2B	0.52	$79,000	Calls $95k 25,570 / $90k 15,254 / $100k 14,330; Puts $70k 4,142 / $72k 3,084 / $75k 3,034 BTC

Fri 30 Oct monthly expiry - largest open interest by strike (BTC)



How options affect the market now

- Weekly pins near $82,000: max pain for Friday sits on spot. With a small book, dealer hedging tends to dampen moves around $82k rather than push them, which fits the tight range.
- Put/call sentiment is split: the weekly is defensive (P/C 1.24, top strike a $78k put) while the monthly is bullish (P/C 0.52, calls stacked $90k-$100k). Short-term traders are hedging; longer-dated money still owns upside.
- Downside acceleration zone $78k-$80k: if spot breaks $80k, holders of the $78k/$80k puts gain fast and dealers who sold them may sell futures to hedge, which can speed a drop.
- Upside walls are far away: the big call strikes ($90k, $95k) are 9-15% above spot, so they will not cap price in the next 24h. Near-term resistance is chart-based ($84k-$84.5k), not options-based.
- Pull toward $79k into 30 Oct: the monthly max pain is $2-3k below spot. That magnet grows as the date nears, and the FOMC lands two days earlier.

- Volatility is cheap: implied vol was around 35% for last Friday's expiry (TokenPost), implying a typical day of about +/-1.8% (~+/-$1,500). Cheap vol means any surprise can move price more than options price in.

Data note: the Deribit public API (index, DVOL, order-book summary) could not be reached this run, so strike data comes from published news (TokenPost 16 Oct, CryptoTicker 17 Oct) and may have shifted since. Sizes are 'largest seen'; USD values use $82,500.

2. Price action and key levels

- BTC rose from an overnight low near $80,700 to just above $83,000 in Asian/European hours, then sellers pushed it back to about $82,400 within half an hour (CoinDesk). Latest seen $82,560 at 9:37pm MYT.
- The weekly range is $79,806 - $84,231. The ~$84,000 ceiling rejected price on 13 and 14 Oct; a weekly low near $79,800 came on 15 Oct during a ~$957M long liquidation day.
- The weekend gain came on thin volume (Saturday 599 BTC, Sunday 987 BTC on the CryptoTicker sample vs 2,089 on Friday), so it is fragile until weekday buyers confirm it.
- Nasdaq 100 futures bounced ~1.1% after a 5.5% weekly tech selloff, and China Q3 GDP (4.5%) beat forecasts. This helped risk assets, but BTC has lagged the stock rebound so far.

Type	Level	Why it matters
Resistance 2	$86,500 - $86,600	21 Sep daily close; analysts' next upside target
Resistance 1	$84,000 - $84,500	Rejected 13-14 Oct; 7-day high. A close above is the first real breakout signal
Pivot	$82,000 - $82,500	Weekly max pain $82k; 4h 50/200 EMAs ($81.9k-$82.3k)
Support	$81,000 - $81,500	50-day SMA and estimated ETF average cost (~$81.5k); Friday close $81,501
Support 2	$79,800 - $80,000	Weekly low and round number; top of the put zone (monthly max pain $79k, weekly $78k/$80k puts)
Deep risk	$72,000 - $76,000	$75k-$76k analyst support and puts; 200-day SMA ~$72k with $70k/$72k put strikes

3. Derivatives, flows and sentiment

Metric	Latest	Read
Perp open interest	$52.27B (CoinGlass via FXStreet)	Up slightly from $51.88B last week; leverage rebuilding slowly after mid-Oct flushes
Funding rate	+0.0089% per 8h	Up from 0.0062%; mildly positive, longs paying but not crowded
Liquidations	Weekend flash: ~$51.6M in 10 min (AI/chip perps); 15 Oct ~$957M, mostly longs	No fresh 24h total found; recent flushes cleared some excess long leverage
Spot BTC ETF flows	16 Oct: -$82.4M (IBIT -$71.8M); week 12-16 Oct: -$228.6M	Second straight weekly outflow; next print is Monday's (out Tue morning MYT)
ETF totals	Cumulative inflows $56.88B; AUM ~$104.3B	Holders near cost (~$81.5k) - a key reason $81k-$81.5k matters
Implied volatility	~35% (16 Oct expiry, TokenPost); DVOL not reachable	Low; implies ~+/-1.8% (~$1,500) per day
Fear & Greed	50 (Neutral)	Down from 53 a week ago; no extreme either way

4. News and macro

- Rates: US September CPI came in hot at 3.7% y/y (core 2.6%). Markets price only ~15-16% odds of a Fed hike on 28 Oct but ~76-92% for one by December. The 10-year yield is ~5.05%. The Fed is in its blackout until 29 Oct.
- Oil and geopolitics: Brent hit a 5-month high Friday, eased to ~$107.6 Monday, then rebounded after weekend tanker attacks near the Strait of Hormuz and US security alerts for 12 Middle East locations. Trump also waived sanctions and tariffs on Russia.

- Corporate buying vs miner selling: Strategy bought 267 BTC (holdings 848,517); Strive bought 1,223 BTC. Wallets linked to MARA moved ~1,000 BTC (~$83M) to Binance and Gate - a possible sale, not confirmed.
- 'Black Monday' scare: semiconductor-stock perps crashed 5-7% in minutes on 17 Oct while US markets were closed, causing ~$34-52M in liquidations and a brief BTC dip toward $80,750. It recovered.
- Europe: French protests hit French bonds and the euro; Stoxx 600 -0.8%. Earnings this week: Netflix (Tue), Meta, Tesla and IBM (Wed) - these move tech sentiment, which BTC has tracked.

Event calendar (Malaysia time)

Sun 1 Nov, 8:00am	October monthly candle close
Tue 10 Nov, ~9:30pm	US October CPI (US clocks change 1 Nov)

5. Summary and prediction

BTC is boxed between the $84,000 ceiling and the $81,000-$81,500 floor, sitting right on the weekly max pain of $82,000. Options do not force a big move in the next 24 hours: the daily expiry is small, the weekly pins near spot, and the big call walls are far above. The bigger risks are outside crypto - oil and Hormuz headlines, a hot inflation backdrop with hike risk, and continued ETF outflows. Leverage is modest and sentiment neutral, so a clean break either way could run, but nothing in the data points to one yet. Downside tails ($78k-$80k puts, $79k monthly max pain) look a little heavier than upside tails. 24h call: range $81,000-$84,000, slight downside lean, pivot $82,000.

Scenario	Chance	Range	Trigger
Base: range	60%	$81,000 - $84,000	Weekly max pain holds price near $82k; no new macro shock; ETF flows flat
Bullish breakout	18%	$84,000 - $86,500	Hourly close above $84,500, tech earnings rally, ETF inflows return, oil eases
Bearish break	22%	$79,000 - $81,000	Loss of $81,000 on volume, oil or Hormuz escalation, more ETF outflows or a confirmed MARA sale

- Upside signal: 1h/4h close above $84,500 with rising open interest and positive spot ETF flow.
- Downside signal: 4h close below $81,000, then $80,000; watch for funding turning negative and long liquidations.
