1. Options - next 24 hours and upcoming expiries

- The 31 Oct daily expiry settles right now (4:00pm MYT today): ~8,058 BTC, ~$622M notional, put/call 1.22, max pain $79,000. After it, the only expiry in the next 24h is the 1 Nov daily at 4:00pm MYT Sunday; its size was not published, but the $75,000 put (1 Nov) was the #2 contract by volume on 30 Oct.
- Daily expiries are small (about 2-3% of Deribit open interest). Total Deribit BTC options OI is ~285,000 BTC (~$22B) after the $10.9B monthly settled at $78,119 on 30 Oct, almost exactly on its $78,000 max pain.
- The expiry that matters this week is the Fri 6 Nov weekly (~$2.07B, P/C 0.32, max pain ~$80,000), the same evening as US payrolls. Mid-Nov $74,000 puts (13 Nov) are the busiest new hedge.

Expiry	Largest position seen	Size	Meaning
31 Oct (4pm today)	$78,000 Put (block)	500 BTC (~$39M)	Hack-hedge puts bought 29 Oct; in the money if BTC settles below $78k
1 Nov (4pm Sun)	$75,000 Put	Top-2 by volume (OI n/a)	Traders paying for protection just under the $76k low
6 Nov weekly	$74k-$78k Puts / $82k-$90k Calls	~$2.07B total, P/C 0.32	Put floor $74-78k; calls far above price, mostly out of the money

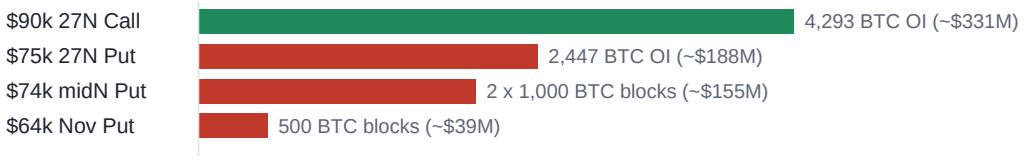
Largest disclosed BTC option positions, November expiries (BTC; USD at ~$77k)



How options affect the market now

- Settlement magnet is gone: the monthly pinned BTC at $78k; with it expired, dealers have less gamma near spot, so moves can be sharper over the weekend.
- Put wall $74k-$78k: heavy new puts (about 1.6 puts bought per call in 24h) mean dealers who sold them hedge by selling futures as price falls, which can speed up a break of $76k toward $74-75k.
- Max pain above spot: both the 6 Nov weekly and 27 Nov monthly have max pain near $80,000, a mild upward pull into those expiries if panic fades.

- Calls are far away: big call OI sits at $82k-$90k, so there is no near call wall; upside first meets spot sellers at $78.4-80k, not options.
- Volatility: DVOL jumped 37 to ~42 after the hack and eased to ~38.7, implying about 2.0% (~$1,560) daily move. Today's small daily expiry is not big enough to move price by itself.

Data note: Deribit API was not reachable this run, so options data are the largest positions seen in published reports (TokenPost, BigGo/CoinDesk, Coinpedia, 30 Oct), not a full strike scan. Max pain and P/C for 1 Nov were not published.

2. Price action and key levels

- BTC ~$77,150 on Binance at 2:24pm MYT; 24h range $76,190-$78,647 (TokenPost). Low of the move ~$76,300 on 30 Oct, the lowest since 21 Aug.
- The Binance $6.3B hot-wallet hack (29 Oct, ~4:05am MYT 30 Oct) pushed BTC from ~$82k Thursday to $76k; bounces have failed below $78-79k.
- BTC is below its 50-day EMA (~$78,500) and sitting on the top of a $65k-$76k fair value gap (CoinGape); October is down over 7%, YTD down over 11%.
- Liquidations cooled: ~$398M in 24h (77% longs) vs $1.55-1.66B on Friday, so the forced selling is slowing.

Type	Level	Why it matters
Resistance 2	$80,000-82,000	Max pain of 6 Nov and 27 Nov; pre-hack range high near $82k
Resistance 1	$78,400-78,650	50-day EMA ~$78.5k, 24h high, van de Poppe's 'bearish flip' level
Pivot	$77,000	Current price; held on several retests since Friday
Support	$76,000-76,300	Hack low; puts cluster $74-78k below it
Deep risk	$74,000-75,000	Large $74k/$75k put strikes; analysts see no support between $78.4k and $75k
Tail	$70,700	Midline of the $65-76k fair value gap

3. Derivatives, flows and sentiment

Metric	Latest	Read
Futures open interest	694,490 BTC (CoinGape, 31 Oct)	Highest since late Sep; rising OI into a drop = new shorts/hedges, squeeze fuel
Funding rates	Not found this run	Check before trading
Liquidations 24h	$398M (77% longs); BTC $142M	Down from $1.55B Friday
Spot BTC ETF flows	-$643M on 30 Oct (IBIT -$234M, FBTC -$201M)	Largest outflow since 25 Jun; prior 4 days +$441M
Options OI (Deribit)	~285k BTC (~$22B)	Put buying ~1.6:1 vs calls in 24h
DVOL (30d implied vol)	~38.7 (peak ~42)	~2.0% implied daily move
Fear & Greed	29-30 (Fear)	Was Greed earlier in the week

4. News and macro

- Binance hack: ~$6.3B taken from hot wallets, linked to North Korea's TraderTraitor; ~$3B frozen on-chain. Binance reserved $6.34B to cover users and plans phased withdrawal restart about 34h after its 30 Oct update.
- Fed hawkish: held at 3.75-4.00% on 28 Oct (10-2, two dissents for a hike); Dallas Fed's Logan wants at least two more 25bp hikes. Markets price a high chance of a 9 Dec hike; 10y yield ~5%.
- ETF selling: $643M out on 30 Oct after four inflow days; hedge funds have cut ETF exposure as the basis carry faded.
- Equities: Coinbase, Strategy and Robinhood shares fell on the hack news.

- Next week: US midterm elections (Tue 3 Nov) and October payrolls (Fri 6 Nov). US clocks change on 1 Nov, so US data now print at 9:30pm/11:00pm MYT.

5. Summary and prediction

BTC is stabilising near $77k after the Binance hack shock, but the tone is still defensive: ETF outflows, a hawkish Fed, rising futures OI and heavy put buying at $74-78k. The monthly expiry is done, so options pinning is weak and weekend liquidity is thin. A clean restart of Binance withdrawals is the main upside catalyst; a hold below $76k would likely trigger hedging flows toward $74-75k. Max pain near $80k for the next weekly and monthly gives a mild pull higher if fear fades. 24h call: range-bound $75,500-$78,700 with a slight downside lean; below $76k opens $74-75k.

Scenario	Chance	Range	Trigger
Base: choppy range	50%	$75,800 - $78,500	No new hack news; weekend liquidity thin
Bullish: relief bounce	25%	$78,500 - $80,500	Binance withdrawals resume smoothly; short squeeze above $78.6k
Bearish: support break	25%	$73,800 - $76,000	Hourly close below $76k; delay or bad news on Binance; more ETF outflows

- Upside signal: hourly close above $78,650 (24h high) with rising spot volume; then $80k max pain is in play.
- Downside signal: hourly close below $76,000; put hedging could accelerate toward $74-75k.
- Next report: 11:50pm MYT Saturday 31 Oct
