Quick view	Bias: Bearish-neutral after hot CPI	Next 24h range: $80,000 - $83,500	Key floor: $81,000, then $80,000 put wall	Big event: US PPI + retail sales, Thu 20:30 MYT

1. Options - next 24 hours and upcoming expiries

- Next expiry: Deribit daily, Thu 15 Oct 16:00 MYT (08:00 UTC). Daily expiries are small; strike-level data for it could not be read this run.
- Weekly (Fri 16 Oct 16:00 MYT): about 15,500 BTC (~$1.27B at current price), put/call 1.43, max pain $83,000 - put-heavy, with puts stacked at $76k-$80k.
- The expiry that matters this month is Fri 30 Oct: about $10.7-11.7B, roughly a third of Deribit BTC options OI, call-heavy (P/C ~0.4-0.5), max pain ~$78,000. It lands two days after the FOMC decision.

Expiry	Largest position seen	Size	Meaning
15 Oct daily (16:00 MYT)	Not available	-	Deribit feed not readable this run; daily expiries are usually too small to move price
16 Oct weekly - put	$80,000 put	~2,250 BTC (~$188M)	Biggest single strike of the week; dealer buying likely defends $80k on a first test
16 Oct weekly - put	$78,000 put	~1,940 BTC (~$162M)	Second put layer; if $80k breaks, hedging can accelerate toward $78k
16 Oct weekly - call	$90,000 call	~1,130 BTC (~$94M)	Far out of the money; little effect unless BTC rallies hard

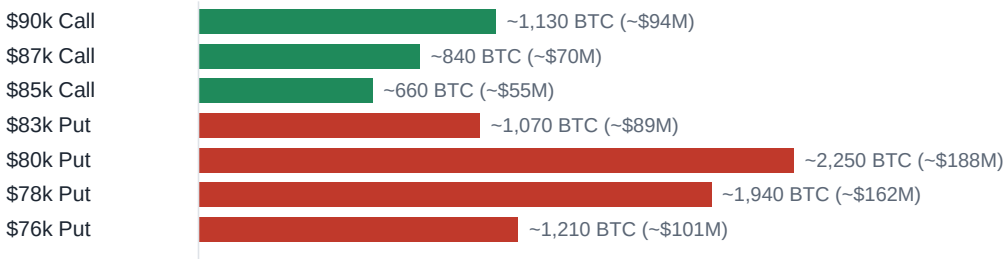
Fri 16 Oct weekly - largest strikes (BTC, estimated from reported $ notional)



How options affect the market now

- $80,000 is the options floor this week. The largest weekly strike is the $80k put. Dealers who sold those puts tend to buy as price nears the strike, which usually slows a first drop into $80k.
- Below $80k the effect flips. With further put layers at $78k and $76k, a clean break can make hedging add to selling, so a move from $80k to $78k could be quick.
- Max pain pull: the weekly max pain is $83,000, just above spot. Into Friday 16:00 MYT this gives a mild pull upward if the market stays calm, and $83k is also where recent shorts sit.
- Sentiment: put/call 1.43 for the weekly shows traders paying for downside protection. The month as a whole is still call-heavy, but those $90k-$100k calls are far away and losing value fast.

- Volatility: 7-day ATM IV was ~32% before CPI (Oct 12), implying a typical daily move of about 1.7% (~$1,400). PPI on Thursday night can push realised moves above that.
- Size check: Thursday's daily expiry is too small to matter. Friday's $1.3B weekly matters modestly; the real magnet is the $11B 30 Oct expiry, where max pain near $78k sits below price.

Data note: the Deribit API (index, DVOL and option book) could not be reached this run, so DVOL and next-24h strike data are missing. Weekly and monthly figures come from CryptoSlate (Deribit snapshot, 12 Oct), Bitcoin.com, CryptoBriefing and TokenPost (8-13 Oct); BTC counts for the weekly are estimated from reported USD notional. Treat them as largest seen, not complete.

2. Price action and key levels

- BTC rose to about $84,000 early on 14 Oct (US morning), but stalled at the same ceiling it has failed at for a week.
- September CPI at 20:30 MYT came in hot: headline 3.7% y/y (3.6% expected), core 0.3% m/m (0.2% expected). BTC dropped about $1,000 within minutes.
- Selling continued after the US open: BTC fell below $82,000 (Bitstamp low $81,926 around 22:20 MYT) and tickers show ~$81,850, down ~1.8% on the day.
- The 10-year Treasury yield touched 5.33%, near 24-year highs; gold fell ~1.5%. The macro backdrop is pressing on all risk assets.

Type	Level	Why it matters
Resistance	$84,000 - $84,500	Repeated daily rejection; spot ETF holders' average cost ~$84,340 (Bitfinex)
Pivot	$83,000	Weekly max pain and the average entry of recent shorts; reclaiming it could trigger a squeeze
Support	$81,000 - $81,300	50-day moving average, Tuesday's low and the 8 Oct defence
Support	$80,000	Largest weekly put strike (~$188M) and round number; recent low $80,347 (8 Oct)
Deep risk	$77,400 - $78,000	Put layer at $78k, monthly max pain ~$78k, True Market Mean $77,400

3. Derivatives, flows and sentiment

Metric	Latest	Read

Futures OI	~$29.3B perps (12 Oct, -1.9% w/w)	Leverage trimmed slightly but still high
Long/short	59.5% / 40.5% (12 Oct)	Crowd leans long - fuel for long liquidations
Liquidations (24h)	$771M on 12 Oct, ~89% longs	Latest full post-CPI figure not found
Spot BTC ETF flows	+$175.7M (13 Oct); -$65.4M (12 Oct); -$681M (week to 9 Oct)	First inflow in days, led by FBTC; trend still weak
Fear & Greed	62 (14 Oct 00:00 UTC), up from 57	Neutral-greedy before CPI; likely lower now
Options IV	7d ATM ~32%, 30d ~34.7% (12 Oct)	Low vol before CPI; skew turned to puts

4. News and macro

- Hot US inflation: September CPI 3.7% y/y and core 0.3% m/m, both above forecast, led by gasoline (+9.1% m/m) on Middle East oil disruption.
- Fed hike odds jump: CME FedWatch odds of a 25bp hike at the 27-28 Oct FOMC rose to ~54% (from ~22% a day earlier) after the data. The Fed already hiked in September; NY Fed's Williams said another 2026 hike could be appropriate.

- Bonds under pressure: 10-year yield up to ~5.33%, 2-year ~4.92%. Equity futures and gold fell. High real yields weigh on BTC.
- ETF flows mixed: +$175.7M on 13 Oct after a -$681M week; BlackRock reported $7.9B Q3 inflows into its digital asset products.
- Other: a dormant early whale moved 4,582 BTC (~$378M); Ledger flagged tampered hardware wallets sold by a Southeast Asian distributor; Sberbank got approval to trade crypto.

5. Summary and prediction

Bitcoin's attempt at $84,000 failed again, and a hotter-than-expected CPI print turned the day into a risk-off move, taking BTC to about $81,850. Rate-hike odds for 27-28 Oct have jumped to roughly a coin flip and Treasury yields are near 24-year highs, which leaves little room for a sustained rally. Options give a cushion: the weekly expiry has its biggest put at $80,000, and max pain at $83,000 gives a slight upward pull into Friday. But funding and the long/short ratio show longs are still crowded, so a break of $81,000 could flush them toward the $80,000 put wall. Thursday's PPI (20:30 MYT) is the next trigger. 24h call: range-bound with downside tilt, $80,000 - $83,500; below $80,000 opens $78,000.

Scenario	Chance	Range	Trigger
Base: choppy hold	50%	$80,500 - $83,500	PPI near forecast; $81k/$80k bids hold; drift toward $83k max pain into Friday
Bullish	20%	$83,500 - $85,500	Soft PPI, yields ease, ETF inflows continue; hourly close above $83k forces shorts to cover
Bearish	30%	$78,000 - $80,500	Hot PPI, Oct hike odds above 60%, daily close below $81k and break of the $80k put wall

- Bull signal: hourly close back above $83,000 with rising spot volume; a daily close above $84,500 would be the real breakout.
- Bear signal: daily close below $81,000, then a trade below $80,000 with growing put volume and funding still positive.
